FEUD ENDS FATALLY

Tennessee Families Engage In Shooting Affray.

OCCURRED AT SWEETWATER

Tragic Sequel to Feud of Long Standing Between the Pearson and the Collins Families—No Arrests Have, as Yet, Been Made.

Knoxville, Tenn., July 27.—A special to the Sentinel from Sweetwater, Tenn., says:

A shooting affray, in which [illegible] was fatally injured and [illegible] others seriously and probably fatally wounded, occurred here Thursday night. It was a sequel to a feud of long standing between the Pearson and the Collins families.

Elijah Pearson was shot through the left arm and in the left breast in the region of the heart. It is feared his injuries will prove fatal.

Russ Pearson was shot in the left leg.

William Collins received a bullet in one arm.

Enoch Collins was only slightly injured, a flesh wound being inflicted by a bullet. It is said the Pearsons obtained alcoholic beverages in the town and after imbibing they met the Collins boys, when trouble ensued.

It is not stated who fired the first shot.

Both sides engaged in the shooting. No arrests have been made.

LOVE TRAGEDY.

Climax to the Battleship Georgia Explosion.

New York, July 27.—Every tragedy is italicized by love, and so is the tragedy of the battleship Georgia.

It was not enough for the blackened bodies to be left prostrate in the six-pounder turret, but a cruel hand stretched out far up Morningside heights in sweltering New York and fell upon a beautiful and wealthy young girl.

She was coming back from a walk. She was happy. She was thinking of her brave sailor boy in blue uniform and shoulder straps, whose photograph stood upon her mantel. And she smiled as she looked where the great river ran down to the sea, where his great ship was floating.

A newsboy ran by with an extra. The big black letters of its headlines terrified her. With staring eyes she read that Lieutenant Casper Goodrich, of the Georgia, was dead in the explosion. The cruel hand had found its victim, for it was Casper Goodrich's photograph that stood upon the mantel.

The girl was Laura Donaldson, a rich bachelor girl. Blindly she staggered home. But home was nothing. Money was nothing. Music, books, flowers, she forgot them all. But she went and stood by the photograph. She took it up, looked at it, kissed it. Then, placing it where she could see it until all was over, she discharged a revolver into her brain.

Love had italicized one more tragedy.

Will Re-Enter Journalism.

New York, July 27.—Mrs. Rose Harriett P. Stokes, wife of a millionaire, J. G. Phelps-Stokes, has decided to return to the field of journalism. She has signed a contract with the Vorwaerts and in addition to writing an article every week on socialism, she will take charge of a column devoted to advice to girls. Mrs. Stokes, who started life as a cigarmaker, educated herself and went into newspaper work. In this field she met Mr. Stokes, whose ideas agreed with hers in many matters for the betterment of the working people.

Three Tramps Killed.

Kalamazoo, Mich., July 27.—A top heavy oil tank filled with naphtha caused a serious freight train wreck on the Big Four railroad near Eau Claire. Three men stealing rides were killed. The oil car jumped the track in a deep cut.

GEORGIA LEGISLATURE.

Prohibition Bill Seems Sure To Be Passed.

[illegible] bill. [illegible] a. m. and 4 p. m. to be divided equally [illegible] and opponents of the measure pending.

It is understood that during the pendency of the bill the gallery shall be cleared of visitors.

This is only further filibuster, in all probability, and signifies that the anti-prohibitionists will fight simply for amendments to the bill, chief of which will be an extension of time for the bill to go into effect, and probably more latitude in the matter of physicians' prescriptions on whisky for medicinal purposes.

Slaton Endorsed.

By a rising vote of 182 to 0 the house of representatives at the capitol on Thursday morning expressed their approbation and appreciation of the work of Speaker Slaton while in the chair on Wednesday, during the celebrated filibuster on the prohibition question, and by this action refuted the charge made that he had been partial to the filibusters.

New Bill by Mr. Hall.

A prohibition bill which provides for the sale of spirituous, vinous and malt liquors in sealed packages, under certain conditions, was introduced in the house on Thursday morning by Mr. Hall, of Bibb. It is introduced as a substitute for the Hardman prohibition bill.

It was offered in the house upon the call for the introduction of new matter and its first reading elicited a great deal of interest, in view of the conclusion of the fight over a more strict bill, which had just been set for a special order for Tuesday. It is the only one of its kind now pending, and its provisions are somewhat different from the usual order.

In the first place, it is provided that it shall not become operative until January 1, 1909.

It is provided that the applicant for a license to sell under the provisions of this act must file application with the ordinary or secretary, indorsed by two hundred freeholders who want him to have this privilege. The license is to be issued by him upon the payment of $2,000 per annum, and it is agreed that no sale shall be for less than a pint nor more than 3 gallons to the same person on the same day. A bond of $1,500 is required to insure strict compliance with this law.

ITEMS FROM ARNO.

Arno, July 27.—Everything is flourishing around Arno. The crop prospect is the best for several years. The corn crop is made and is very fine. Fodder pulling is about all over and a nice lot of fodder has been housed. The peach crop was short in quantity but fine in quality, and a fine price was obtained.

J. T. Price and wife and Miss Reta Clark went to Lake City to attend the Baptist convention.

Miss Ida Price, who is attending the Normal school at Gainesville, came home to keep house while her father and mother were away.

Mrs. Neal of High Springs, mother of John Neal and Mrs. W. E. Dow of Gainesville, is spending this week with Mrs. F. P. Henderson and her daughter, Miss Wilson of Wade.

Deputy Sheriff Walker was here this week looking after legal business.

F. P. Henderson has just returned from a tour of the State, visiting and inspecting the peach orchards and introducing the red head fungus for the destruction of the San Jose scale. He reports every orchard he found more or less infected with the scale. He had a very successful trip.

F. P. Henderson and wife desire to express, through your columns, their hearty appreciation of the welcome expressed by their many friends in Gainesville even before they move back, which they expect to do next month.

KNIGHT'S CONSPIRACY AGAINST L'ENGLE

Comments of Two of Florida's Leading Papers on Case.

DID LEGISLATURE NEED KEEPER?

Speaker Matthews Says Peter and Claude Could Both Have Been Spared from Tallahassee for All Either Accomplished in Respective Lines.

When Dick Turpin, Claud Duval, and members of their guild patrolled the King's highway in England and held up the wayfarer, it was done for the purpose of robbery.

There was no guess work or conjecture about it, but the purposes of these gentlemen were clearly understood.

So, at a later day, when Mr. Jesse James held sway in this country and terrorized the people of several States, the wayfaring man, though a fool, understood what it was for without being told, whether he was from Missouri, or some other State.

So, when a child is kidnapped and taken to some desolate place, it is not done for the purpose of any unkindness to the child, but the child is held purely for a ransom.

So, also, when grave robbers ply their nefarious business, it is done for the purpose of extorting money from the distressed relatives of the deceased victim whose grave has been desecrated.

The Tallahassee Sun weaves a most interesting story of a band of conspirators who tried to rid Tallahassee of the presence of Editor L'Engle by the hot use of the wires and the instrumentalities of the courts during the session of the last Legislature, but for what purpose is not stated.

Men rarely do things that will bring censure upon them without some strong motive.

What Mr. Peter O. Knight had up his sleeve is a mere matter of conjecture.

If it had been shown that his purpose was to steal the State of Florida, or undo the scheme or reclaiming the Everglades, or had some other scheme of like dark import which L'Engle's presence at the capital would frustrate, there would have been some foundation for the thrilling story.

But no motive is shown for the creation of the conspiracy except that Mr. L'Engle's presence at the capital meant ruin for Mr. Peter O. Knight.

If Mr. L'Engle had answered the mandates of the criminal court of Manatee county he would have been absent from the capital only for a few days at most, so what great "plunderbund" could Mr. Knight have rushed through the Legislature in so short a time? Wasn't the "Before Day Club" there with its eagle eyes wide open for the detection of the mildest and wildest sort of schemes? Could the Governor, who, Mr. L'Engle informs us, is as adamant against all seductive influence, been hypnotized by Mr. Peter O. Knight as soon as Mr. L'Engle's back was turned?

The fact that Mr. L'Engle's presence was needed every day at the capital to prevent the Legislature from going astray and bringing ruin and disaster upon the State, it occurs to us, is a grave reflection upon that body.

We have read The Sun's article with some degree of care and we hope with fairness, but it does seem to us that no such an article has been written since Dean Swift wrote his "Tale of a Tub."—Ocala Banner.

The Banner seems to have arrived at about the same conclusion we had reached in the matter. To be brutally frank Peter and Claud take themselves too seriously and in turn take one another too seriously. Peter has an idea that all the railroads in the State would be torn up root and branch if he did not make his biennial visit to Tallahassee and Claud just knows the octopus would run off with the State if he were not on hand every minute the Legislature is in session. They are honest in this. It's the way with some people. But as we said, they take themselves too seriously. We are informed on what appears to be good authority that the Legislature used to meet about every two years before Peter or Claud ever saw the red hills of old Leon and tradition has it that these meetings got on moderately well with the affairs of State minus the presence of either of them.

The whole gist of The Sun's story was to show that it was Claud and Peter for it—Claud and Peter, Peter and Claud. Claud was good and Peter was bad. The whole thing is downright laughable, now isn't it? Peter trying to get Claud out of town for a few days so he could run away with the State and Claud standing like a stone wall against the wiles of Peter is as comic as the best of the colored supplements.

The writer of these few lines was more or less observant of matters as they wobbled along during the last session of the Legislature and he failed to see any great big chunks of ice cut by either Claud or Peter. It is generally understood, we believe, that Peter's efforts are directed at the prevention of legislation affecting the corporations. The Legislature passed a bill placing a license tax of $10 per mile on the railroads of the State; also a bill authorizing the railroad commission to employ a special attorney to enforce its orders; also a bill giving the commission jurisdiction of the physical condition of the railroads; also a bill regulating charges of the express companies in certain cases; also a bill requiring the telegraph companies to promptly deliver the telegrams. This, we think, shows Peter up in rather a bad light, as a preventer, and while Claud no doubt felt keenly his responsibility as a "State saver" he also had an eye peeled for Claud. What he was more particularly interested in than in saving the State was the defeat of an amendment to the State printing bill and the enactment of an item in the appropriation bill carrying an extra five thousand "plunks" for public printing. The one he wanted defeated was passed and the one he wanted passed was defeated. It necessarily follows that if Claud couldn't do a better job at saving himself, he couldn't very well be an important factor in saving the State.

This plain illustration of their impotence in legislative matters should, we think, convince the public that there is no occasion for concern about any controversy that may arise between the two.

If it is true that Peter sent the telegrams in the case he was certainly gunning for small game, and if Claud feared that Peter was about to appropriate the State to his own behoof his fears were not well founded. This State was really in no danger from Peter.

But why pursue the subject? To think of it is to laugh, and then laugh again, at the whole ludicrous mess.—Starke Telegraph.

DEATH OF SENATOR PETTUS.

Passes Away at Age of 86 Years at Hot Springs, N. C.

Asheville, N. C. July 27.—United States Senator Pettus of Alabama died tonight at the Mountain Park Hotel, aged 86 years.

Negroes Murder Young Woman.

Wilmington, W. Va., July 27.—Rose Maddox, a young woman of Huntington, was murdered in Lawrence county, O., opposite here. She crossed the river into Ohio and walked down the river road. On the boat with her were two negroes. They followed the young woman. An hour afterwards she was found dead beside the road. Evidently there had been a desperate struggle. The negroes have not been caught.

Officer Killed by Soldier.

Tiflis, July 27.—Colonel Dobrowolski, commander of the 201st infantry, was shot and killed Thursday by a soldier of his own regiment who is an ex-sailor of the battleship Tri-Sviatitel. The assassin fired three times from a rifle.

THIS GIRL A HEROINE

One Interesting Story of Latest Steamer Disaster.

IN WATER FOR TWO HOURS

Girl Had Never Swam Before, But Succeeded in Saving Herself and Woman Passenger of the Doomed Ship.

Portland, Ore., July 26—Miss Isabelle Watson, of Berkeley, the 17-year-old girl who supported a drowning woman for two hours after the wreck of the steamer Columbia, was one of the passengers on the steamer George W. Elder.

Miss Watson, with her companion, succeeded in floating a life boat. As it hardly had been lowered when the Columbia sank, the occupants were thrown in the water.

"When I came to the surface," said Miss Watson, "some people were singing 'Nearer My God to Thee' and other hymns. I had never had a stroke before, but somehow I had sense enough to try. I had gone but a little way when a woman came beside me and caught me around the neck. I had to support her with one hand and swim with the other. Several men swam past me, but would offer no assistance. I struck out as best I could until I was picked up more than two hours after the collision by Third Officer Brown in a boat. I insisted that he take the woman on first, which he did, and then soon had me out of the water. The boat crew thought she was dead, and so did the doctors on the Elder, but to oblige Mr. Hawes, they made a determined effort to save her and succeeded."

The woman to whom Miss Watson's silent aid was Mrs. Julia Cornell, of Cleveland, Ohio.

A LARGE ESTABLISHMENT.

Benson & Son Have Made Many Improvements.

Benson & Son, one of the old firms in the city, have just completed many changes and improvements in their shop on South Main street.

Benson & Son have always carried out high-class work and have gained an enviable reputation for the same. This firm makes the finest buggies, carriages and wagons to be had anywhere.

In the blacksmith and wood-work department there has been many improvements. The old wooden floor has been taken up and a new lithic floor put down, the old forges have been replaced by new ones which are fanned by an electric motor. This room is lighted with plenty of light. In the rear Mr. Benson has built a furnace for heating tires which is said by those who have seen it to be the best thing ever devised for the purpose.

In the wood-work department many improvements have also been made. All the machinery is now run by the electric motor. The paint and varnish room, which occupies the entire second floor, is under the personal supervision of N. B. Benson, who has proven himself an artist in his line.

They have recently had their entire building painted, and fitted up as fine an office as can be found in the city. The building, which is an iron structure, is thoroughly equipped with the latest fire protection. They have nearly 15,000 square feet of floor space in which to display their goods and invite their friends and customers to come and see them, and if in need of their services give them an order. There are larger blacksmith and wheelwright shops and larger manufacturing works, but taken altogether there is not a better equipped shop to take care of this line of business in the State.

H. B. Benson, the senior member of the firm, has been in the blacksmith business since a boy of 17, and knows what is required to fit up a first-class shop, and he says that he has done

LATEST NEWS FROM NATIONAL CAPITAL

Cortelyou is Well Known Through out Western States.

THE PRESIDENT MAY RUN AGAIN

After a Few "Try-Outs" of Favorite Sons It Is Possible He May Consent to Lead His Party Once More.

(Special Correspondence.)

Washington, D. C., July 25.—United States Senator Stephen B. Elkins of West Virginia is authority for the statement that New York will present the Hon. George Bruce Cortelyou for President in the Republican National convention of 1908. Mr. Elkins was in New York recently and found such a decided sentiment in favor of the Secretary of the Treasury in business circles that no doubt was left in his mind as to the preference of the people in the next convention. He said that a high Federal official, who has power in New York political circles, and is handling the Cortelyou boom, was amazed to find how well known Cortelyou is in all the Western States. This is not to be wondered at for an observing young man like Cortelyou, who has made seventy speeches with two Presidents of the United States, and in an official capacity, ought to know a few eminent men in all the States of the Union. This is apt to bring about a fight in the Empire State, for Hearst is a strong man and has hosts of friends, and the man who secures the state delegation will know he has been in a warm struggle.

President Roosevelt is devoting his time at Oyster Bay to rest and recreation absolutely. Many prominent politicians who desired to consult him on political matters have found it extremely difficult to arrange a pow-wow. This does not mean, however, that he is not keeping in touch with the situation. Notwithstanding his repeated assertion that he will not again be a candidate for Presidential honors, the belief is strong that should the people demand it, he will again become their choice. In all the States where "favorite sons" are beating the tom-toms Roosevelt is easily the first choice of the people—the masses—and there ever is a time when the people, and not the politicians, name the candidate, that time is close at hand. It is indeed significant that those who have been put forward as presidential timber—Taft, Knox, Fairbanks, and Cortelyou—have failed to arouse the enthusiasm of a populace. What would be the action should the President announce that while not desiring a third term, if the people demanded it he would serve them? After a few more "try-outs" of favorite sons may-be such announcement will be made. Judge Parker believes that the people of New York and the North will rally to support a Southern man for the Presidency, and that the party can pick from men possessing all the requirements for the position. In fact it is thought that Judge Parker and the New York corporations have a desire to wean the South from Bryan, and, that accomplished, will name their candidate. The Democratic slogan is "anything to beat Bryan." The other people in the country care very little nowadays what Wall Street wants, and with Bryan paralleling Roosevelt in many of his doctrines, he looms at the head of the Democratic ranks as does Roosevelt in the Republican forces.

Not Ready to Act.

The Government is still at sea with reference to the Harriman prosecution. Another conference of Federal officials will be held, probably at Oyster Bay, in the near future, to decide whether civil actions will be brought in the Federal courts to dissolve the alleged illegal mergers of railroad property. Harriman is not saying anything, but we will hear from him when a decision is reached.

The Doctor Away from Home When Most Needed.

People are often very much disappointed to find that their family physician is away from home when they most need his services. Diseases like cramp, colic and cholera morbus require prompt treatment, and have in many instances proven fatal before medicine could be procured or a physician summoned. The right way is to keep at hand a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. No physician can prescribe a better medicine for these diseases. By having it in the house you escape much pain and suffering and all risk. Buy it now; it may save life. For sale by all druggists.

Mule Killed By Lightning.

DEATH OF MRS. KLEIN.

One of Albion's Oldest Residents Dies in New Jersey.

Mrs. Caroline M. Klein, [illegible] of Albion, Fla., died at her home in Camden, N. J., on July [illegible] disease aged [illegible] years.

Mrs. Klein was [illegible] of Albion. She was the widow of the late John Klein and mother of Florence, John, Stewart and Lewis Klein. Whilst to the outside world she was a successful housekeeper, yet to her friends and relatives she was admired for her gentleness and amiability. Her devotion to family was exhibited in the quiet self denials and personal sacrifices for their comfort or pleasure. Few women have ever proved such a mother and few mothers have ever proved such a woman.

While quite young she joined the Presbyterian church and ever manifested the love of God by her charity, benevolence and sympathy for the afflicted or distressed. To her religion was an active principle and not a dead force. The humblest or poorest were regarded as important as the great and rich. Life to her was no dream, but an opportunity for doing good.

We tender our sympathy to the children, who mourn their greatest loss, the death of their mother.—Bronson Times-Democrat.

THE U. S. JUDGESHIP.

Col. H. S. Chubb is of Opinion That Mr. Sheppard Will be Appointed.

Col. H. S. Chubb, register of the United States land office, having recently returned from a trip North, The Sun reporter asked him who he thought would be appointed to fill the vacancy in the United States judgeship for the Northern District of Florida, caused by the recent death of Judge Swayne. The Colonel replied that he paid no attention to all this talk about a man from North Carolina or any other State being named for the place, and that he was confident Mr. Sheppard, the present United States attorney for the northern circuit, would secure the appointment. Col. Chubb says Mr. Sheppard is highly endorsed by both Democrats and Republicans. The Republican organization is supporting him aslo, and there is no doubt but what he will be appointed by the President.

BABY DESERTED AT DEPOT IN JAX.

Basket Containing White Infant Found In Waiting Room.

YOUNG WOMAN IS SUSPECTED

Believed to Have Arrived on Early Train from Tampa—Baby Is a Dimple-Faced Boy About a Week Old. Sent to Orphanage.

Jacksonville, Fla., July 26.—Quite a sensation was caused at the Union Depot this morning, a few minutes before 7 o'clock, by the finding of a white baby, which has been left in the ladies' waiting room by some unknown person.

Everybody at the depot, from the newsboy up, wanted to see the little fellow, who was giving vent to his righteous indignation at being left alone with yells from a pair of lusty lungs. How any mother could abandon a chubby, dimple-faced boy like this one is hard to understand. As the crowds gathered about the basket and gazed at its human contents there were many expressions of indignation for the cruel person who had cast the innocent little babe adrift in the world without so much as a bottle of milk.

While busy at work dusting off the benches in the ladies' waiting room the colored matron observed the basket, and upon looking to see what it contained was startled to see something squirming about as if trying to escape from its confines. Lifting a cloth cover from the basket brought to view the baby, which let out a squall that was heard all around the room. The matron endeavored to find the owner, thinking probably that some one had left the baby behind in a hurry to catch a train, but no one would claim it.

The matter was reported to Policeman Barefield, but he could not find anyone to whom the baby belonged or get any clew to the party who had deserted it. The case was reported to the police station and Detective Cahoon and Boggs began the work of trying to learn from whence the youngster came. It was between 6:10 and 6:35 o'clock when the basket was left in the waiting room. Some of the passengers arriving on the Atlantic Coast Line train from Tampa at about 6:30 o'clock stated that they had seen a young white woman about 18 or 19 years of age, on the train with a basket similar to the one found, and that her actions excited suspicion. This same young woman was seen to enter the waiting room and then leave hurriedly a few minutes after. Her identity or the place where she got on the train has not yet been learned. F. G. Reese of this city saw the woman and has furnished the officers with a description of her. No clew as to where she went after leaving the depot could be found.

The baby is about a week old. It was neatly, but plainly dressed. The basket in which it had been placed was a cheap affair, and no note or anything was found in it regarding the child. The police ordered the baby sent to St. Mary's Orphanage.

JAMES VANLANDINGHAM DEAD.

Passed Away at His Home in Monteocha from Dropsy.

From Saturday's Daily Sun

Mr. James Vanlandingham, one of the oldest settlers of this county, died at his home in Monteocha Friday morning with dropsy. Mr. Vanlandingham had been in bad health for the past year, and the end was no surprise to his friends.

Mr. Vanlandingham was born in South Carolina, but moved to this State before the war. When the war broke out he was among the first to join the Confederate army. He was color bearer of his company and his comrades all say that there was never a braver soldier in the ranks. He was a member of Company Six, Seventh Florida Regiment, and was with that regiment when it surrendered. He was 77 years old at the time of his death.

The funeral will take place today at the Antioch cemetery at 11 o'clock.

To the breaved relatives The Sun extends sympathy in their hour of trouble.

A WILD-CAT CHASE.

Den Whittington and Others Have a Fine Hunt Near High Springs.

Den Whittington, a colored brakeman on the Atlantic Coast Line Railway, got a day off a few days ago and gathered together a party and went out hunting for wild-cats. After being out for about an hour they found a huge cat and a merry chase ensued.

The party had several dogs with them and the cat was treed about two and a half miles out from High Springs. The cat was about the largest ever seen around High Springs, measuring four feet and three inches.

Den took the skin home with him and is very proud of it.

Your Liver

Is out of order. You go to bed in a bad humor and get up with a bad taste in your mouth. You want something to stimulate your liver. Just try Herbine, the liver regulator. A positive cure for constipation, dyspepsia and all liver complaints. Mrs. F——, Ft. Worth, Texas, writes: "We have used Herbine in my family for years. Words can't express what I think about it. Everybody in my household are happy and well, and we owe it to Herbine." Sold by W. M. Johnson.

Notice.

Take notice that I will on the first Thursday of November, 1907, or as soon thereafter as I may be heard, apply for a pardon for Gus Mashby, who was convicted at the Spring term of the Circuit Court of Alachua county, Fla., in 1905, of murder. Anyone desiring may then be heard on the merits of the application.

WEATHER NOT SO WARM IN FLORIDA

As It Is In the Northern and Western States

IN THE GOOD OLD SUMMER TIME

Experience of a Visitor Who Expected to Find the Climate Unendurable During June and July—Says the State Is Summer Resort.

(St. Petersburg Independent.)

A gentleman from Michigan was among us this week. He said when he decided to come to Florida, it took heroic will power to brave the terrible heat of the southernmost State. He came here with the feeling that he was going to be melted, or shriveled up and blown seaward with the first unruly wind.

As an extra precaution he carried in his pocket a thermometer and said that he was ready to turn around and go back when the thermometer got up to 160 in the shade.

He is the most surprised man in Florida.

When we met him the other day he was studying the recording thermometer in front of The Independent office. Alongside of it is the daily weather report from all bureaus in the United States.

The thermometer showed a range of temperature from 68 degrees to 90. The 90-degree weather was for only an hour for one day. The hottest yet recorded this season was 92, last Thursday.

The weather report showed that the Central States' district was having 98, 96 and 94-degree heat, with the night reading at 83 to 87.

The gentleman from Michigan remarked: "Why, Florida is a summer resort. I haven't felt oppressed since coming down here. In my State I frequently go about looking for a breathing spot. I seem all choked up. Many a night have I gotten up and sought air—I felt as if my last moment had come. Here I sleep like a trooper. The air is pure, the breeze is always stirring and—well it does pass all understanding."

And in about the same words a gentleman from Philadelphia expressed himself to us.

Florida has the best winter and summer and fall and spring climate on earth. Three hundred and sixty-five days in each year, and in some years three hundred and sixty-six days, are simply perfect. There has not been a full cloudy day on this sub-peninsula for over seven months.

NATIONAL CONVENTION B. P. O. E.

Exalted Ruler Chubb Makes Interesting Report to Local Lodge.

The regular meeting of Gainesville Lodge No. 990, B. P. O. E., Thursday night was not largely attended, but those who were present enjoyed a rare treat in the verbal report of Exalted Ruler H. S. Chubb of his visit to Philadelphia as the representative of the lodge to the National Convention of the order. Col. Chubb is a fluent speaker upon all subjects, but on this occasion he surpassed himself, and when he concluded his report those present felt as if they had attended the convention in person, so realistic was his portrayal of scenes and events.

The lodge tendered him a unanimous vote of thanks for his excellent and interesting report.

$100 Reward Offered for Fire-Bug

The citizens of Gainesville have raised a reward of $100 for the conviction of the party who set fire to the houses and store in North Gainesville last Monday morning.

Marshal Arnow circualted the petition, which was signed readily by nearly everyone to whom it was presented.

It is hoped and believed that the guilty party will be caught.

In Mayor's Court.

There was but little doing in the Mayor's court Friday. There was but one arrest, that of Annie Tisby, on the charge of fighting. She was found guilty and fined $10 and costs.

Constipation.

S.S.S. CURES SKIN DISEASE

Skin disease can exist without an underlying cause, and in most cases it is either a humor in the blood or an excess of acids in the vital fluid. These humors and acids get into the blood, generally because of an inactive and sluggish condition of those members whose duty it is to collect and carry off the waste and refuse of the body. Unless this matter is left in the system to sour and ferment, and soon the circulation becomes charged with the acid poison. The blood, in its effort to rid itself of this foreign matter, begins to throw off the humors and acids through the pores and glands of the skin. These coming in contact with the delicate tissues and fibers with which the skin is so abundantly supplied, produces irritation and inflammation on the surface, and Eczema, Tetter, Psoriasis, Salt Rheum, or some other troublesome and disfiguring skin disease is the result. External applications, while they may relieve itching, and are beneficial in keeping the skin clean, can never cure these affections, because they do not reach the blood where the real trouble is located. A thorough cleansing of the blood is the only permanent cure for skin diseases. S. S. S., the greatest of all blood purifiers, is the best treatment. It cures by neutralizing the acids and removing the humors from the circulation so that the skin, instead of being irritated and disfigured by the exuding acrid matter, is nourished and soothed by a cooling, healing stream of blood. S. S. S. goes down to the very bottom of the trouble, and removes the foreign matter and thereby permanently cures every form of trouble. Do not expect to cure a blood disease with local applications, but begin the use of S. S. S., and when you have removed the cause the skin will be free from disease. "The times are too good for my health," writes a level-headed poet. To the average man here is truth and poetry combined. The times are indeed so good that a man of moderate means can scarcely get a square meal without paying half his income in extra profits to the trusts.

Mayor Sebring is showing the people of Jacksonville that he is not merely a figurehead. The General is one of the old Kentucky warhorses that does things. A young old mayor like the General is worth more to Jacksonville in one year than an old fogy one would be worth to her in ten years.

The music hall of Rollins College at Winter Park was struck by lightning on the 25th and completely destroyed. The equipment was partially insured, but four pianos and the splendid domestic school outfit were a total loss. The building and contents were insured. President Blackman was in the North at the time.

One or two Florida editors seem to think that because the criminal prosecution of the editor of The Tallahassean has been delayed owing to the departure of Col. Peter O. Knight for Hot Springs, Ark., the matter will be dropped. You were never more mistaken, brethren. Knight and Stovall, you may rest assured, will push this matter at the proper time.

Eden, roof-garden theater, caves, dens, and the habbitats of the depraved rich—luxurious, brilliant and filled with beauty—are not the lairs of the ignorant mob fresh from the underworld. They belong ofttimes to those influential enough to forbid the court to publish names. These perfumed and sweetly scented harems belong to the elect and chosen. Birds of a feather always build their nests up high.

There seems be hot times in the Georgia legislature. During the discussion of the prohibition bill Wednesday Hon. Seab Wright called Hon. Bill Hall a liar, whereupon the latter closed the space between them and blows were exchanged. The police reserves were called out, the galleries cleared and quiet restored. In the House, by unanimous consent, adjourned at 10:53 until Thursday morning. Wright is the leader for the prohibitionists, while Hall is taking an active part against the prohibition bill.

The removal of the Florida University from Lake City seems to have had the effect of uniting the two sections of the town for the common good. "Its an ill wind that blows no good," and The Sun is pleased to note the rapid strides being made by our sister city. In securing the coeducation college established by the Florida State Baptist convention Lake City is indeed fortunate, and if factionalism does not enter into its management there is no doubt that great benefit will redound not only to Lake City, but to the entire State.

WEEDS AGAIN.

The Florida Health Notes says: About a year ago The Notes made mention of weeds, it stressed the fact that weeds should be destroyed for aesthetic purposes. It defended them against the charge of breeding mosquitoes and committing other depredations against the public health. But it charged them with being eyesores and contributing to the general slovenliness of a city.

Exception was taken to the attitude of The Notes toward weeds. And for this reason we beg to quote the following from the last annual report of the Department of Health of Washington, D. C.:

"The substantial enforcement of the anti-weed law as it now stands would involve the expenditure of a large amount of money each year, and so far as the health department can discover, there would be no corresponding return in improved public health. There would be a great gain in the beauty of the city, but it is questionable whether, for such improvement in beauty alone, the district can afford to pay the price just now.

"Certainly if weeds are not injurious to health they may be permitted to grow to a height of 18 or 20 inches or more without doing harm. In undertaking to determine whether weeds are or are not detrimental to health it is necessary to bear in mind that weeds do not differ originally from plants classed as vegetables, flowers, and fruits. If, therefore, vacant places overgrown with weeds are detrimental to the public health, places overgrown with vegetables, flowers, and fruits, must be regarded as equally so. But I have never heard it claimed that gardens, farms, and parks, are detrimental to public health. The question hinges, not on the kind of vegetation, but on the extent of the overgrowth. Vegetation may be of such a character and so dense as to result in the accumulation of stagnant water, and it may thus be responsible for the breeding of mosquitoes. Such conditions are, however, more directly attributed to the stagnant water than to the vegetation, and are better corrected by proper grading and drainage than by the removal from time to time of the offending growth. * * *

"It is claimed by some that weeds of certain kinds give rise to hay fever. This, however, has not been demonstrated, and the same objections have been raised against some flowers and vegetables, notably roses and corn. In any event, however, it must be admitted that if such a result occurs at all it is due to idiosyncrasy on the part of the rare individual rather than to any relation existing between weeds and the human species generally. The decay of vegetation in the fall is popularly believed to be detrimental to health, but in view of the slowness of the process the gases generated by decay are hardly present in the atmosphere at any one time in quantities sufficient to work injury. The gases themselves probably possess no specifically poisonous properties. After a careful consideration of the entire subject I find no reason for believing that vacant places overgrown with weeds are materially detrimental to public health."

FRANK ADAMS.

The editor of The Sun has always had a warm place in his heart for the noble son of Hamilton, Hon. Frank Adams. There is not a brainier, more gifted man in the South, and those who know him best love him most. Many of his friends hoped that he would be a candidate for the United States Senate in 1908, but it seems that they are to be disappointed, as the following card from him in The Jasper News of July 26th indicates:

"To the People of Florida:

"Some Time ago, feeling that I had served as Senator from this county long enough, and reasoning that the county would not suffer by 'office rotation,' I tendered to Governor Broward my resignation, to take effect at the general election in 1908, at which time my successor could be chosen. This action on my part seems to have been accepted as evidence that I would be a candidate for the United States Senate. This was not so intended.

"He whose bosom would not swell with pardonable pride at the reception of assurances of esteem and support that have reached me from press and people while associating my name with the United States Senatorship would have to be void of appreciation, and low in the scale of manhood

Would Singe Him.

Where is the man who said that he has inside knowledge on the subject and that there was to be no summer this year? Let the mendacious cuss present himself at these headquarters and catch the sulphurous breath of a few scorching remarks we would be glad to hiss into his ear.—Live Oak Democrat.

Should Favor Home Industry.

The Governor has gone to New York with his wife, sister and eight children to select the furniture for the new mansion.—Tallahassee Tribune Democrat. Wonder if the Governor couldn't have found suitable furniture a little closer home? Judging by the size of his family we would pronounce him an advocate of home industry.—Miami Metropolis.

No Need of Immigration.

The town of Town Creek, Ala., with only 250 population, has had fifteen babies born to six couples within two weeks. Three couples had triplets born to them and three had twins. The people there are enthusiastic over the record, have notified the President and have petitioned the Postoffice Department to change the name of the town to Teddyville. It is perhaps needless to say that Town Creek sees no reason to agitate for immigration.—The Times-Union Short Talks.

That Four-Cent Passenger Rate.

In other States in the Union the railroad companies are protesting against two-cent fares and are eager to get back to the three-cent basis, but here in Florida we furnish the antique spectacle of a railroad company, a great trunk line at that, calmly collecting the outrageous tariff of four cents a mile, and nobody doing anything to stop the holdup. Between Pensacola and River Junction the L. & N. sticks it to every passenger for four cents a mile. The Pensacola Journal pertinently suggests in this connection that the railroad company should be forced either to pay taxes on the valuation which it pleads as a two-cent rate basis, or lower that rate to a figure in keeping with the valuation it does pay. Is there another state in the Union where the four-cent rate is prevailing now?—Live Oak Democrat.

Keeping Batch.

It said perhaps, to the credit of many of the husbands of Fernandina, though maybe not in strict accordance with their feelings, that they are quite capable of performing domestic duties by preparing as well as furnishing their daily bread in the absence of the mistress who are taking a few days' vacation to which they are justly entitled at this season of the year. It is no unusual thing to see a man pull a dishrag from his pocket instead of a handkerchief, or draw out a box of baking powder in search for a cigar. But the time will soon come when the good woman will return to again straighten out the household, and then the men can come and go at will, always finding things in apple pie order about the house, which, during the absence of the feminine member, so much resembled the "china shop the bull ran through."—Fernandina Record.

DANGER OF COAL FAMINE.

The New York Commercial remarks that if we may judge from the appeals made by the railroads of the West to the retail coal dealers along their lines to supply themselves with coal there is felt to be great danger of a coal famine in Minnesota and Nebraska, Kansas and in the Northwest generally, as far as Montana, that of last winter. The dangers of a coal shortage are much greater now than formerly, owing to the fact that the railroads under their enforced retirement from interstate coal traffic can no longer anticipate their demands by taking a vigorous hand in the production and distribution. The supplies that are to make next winter less of a terror in some regards than last winter must now depend on the foresight of the dealers who have the opportunity to order in advance of the consumers' demands. The appeals made to such agencies by the Union Pacific and the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railways are couched in language that emphasizes the fact that the retail dealers are not appreciating the gravity of the situation. Apparently the railroads are placing themselves in a correct position, and their attitude will be indorsed by the country at large. A coal famine next winter, as the result of the supineness of the local dealers, would not only fail to receive the public sympathy, but would tend to blacklist those regions against immigration from the other parts of the country.

About the best definition for character is the age-old truism: As a man thinketh in his heart so is he. And what is more—we mold thought. The story of Percy Martin, the young fellow who recently attempted, single handed, to hold up a Seaboard Air Line train, should certainly be a strong argument for the temperance and anti-cigarette crowd. This young man, by the constant use of cigarettes and excessive drinking, had undoubtedly weakened his intellect. And he had further distorted his mind by the dime novel romanticism until, fired by the example of Jesse James and his kind, he attempted to rob the Seaboard train. Of course, there was but one ending. Percy Martin languishes in the penitentiary to meditate on the folly of practicing ten-cent absurdities among twentieth century realities.

Judge Wright of Jacksonville is "socking" it to the pistol toters. Give it to 'em, Judge. The editor of The Sun is pleased to observe such rigid enforcement of the law of which he is the author.

U. S. Marsden gives this town a mention in The Success Magazine. There is nothing more depressing than looking upon the prostrate corpse of a deceased city. We know what it is when the process of decay sets in, but when there is not a single person with whom you should have it out, there is no use in trying to resurrect it. Nothing is more foolish more positively wicked than to drag the skeletons of the past—the hideous images the foolish deeds, the opportunity exuberances of the past—into today's work to mar and spoil it. There are plenty of people who have been failures up to the present moment who could do wonders in the future if they would only forget the past, if they only had the ability to cut it off, to close the door on it forever and start anew.

Lumbermen in the United States are cutting four times as much lumber each year from the forests of the country as nature is supplying. The average American uses some 400 feet of lumber each year, as against but sixty feet used by his European neighbors. Lumber prices are just twice as high as they were in 1900, and the tendency is still upward. Men in the lumber business are beginning to look at the problem seriously. The Federal forest reserves, as recently prepared by President Roosevelt, comprise an area greater than the total area of the Republic of France or the German empire. A Russian forest expert has declared that Russia can supply the world with timber for a century to come. Nations the most careful and observing economists show that the supply will be practically exhausted in from three to forty years.

Santa Rosa county has voted itself dry and the territory between Escambia and Pensacola without a saloon. The temperance people of Old Santa Rosa are to be congratulated upon their victory. They worked with an energy that deserved success, being undaunted by previous defeats. Marion, Orange and Putnam counties are the next strongholds of the liquor dealers and the pro-hibs are preparing to storm, and the signs of the times clearly indicate that "Victory" will also be inscribed upon their banner when the smoke of battle clears away after the fight in those counties. "So mote it be."

Fort Bully Annexed.

The decision of the Supreme Court affirming Judge Wall's decision in the Hayes case gives the sanction of the highest judicial body in the State to the constitutionality of the act of the last Legislature which validated the election of 1905, annexing Fort Brooke to Tampa. This settles the question and will meet general approval.

The ending of the litigation in a satisfactory manner adds increased interest to the election of July 30th to determine whether other suburban areas east, north and west of the city shall be annexed. The public generally, The Tribune believes, are in favor of the annexation, as it is the only logical thing to do in order that these largely populated sections may receive the benefit of municipal utilities.

There seems absolutely no doubt that the election will carry for annexation; and so this area and Fort Brooke added to Tampa will be the beginning of an expansion that will continue until the Queen City of the Gulf shall grow into a great and commanding metropolis.—Tampa Tribune.

DIED IN MOTHER'S ARMS.

On the Way for Medical Attention Vessie Rhoden Passed Away.

(Starke Telegraph.)

Mrs. Sarah Rhoden had an experience in this city Tuesday afternoon that will touch the heart of every parent who reads of it. Vessie, Mrs. Rhoden's eleven-year-old daughter, had been ill since Sunday with a distressing pain in her side. Simple remedies were applied at home but the child seemed to be growing worse Tuesday afternoon, and Mrs. Rhoden determined to bring her to town, a distance of about four miles, for examination and treatment by a physician. Holding the child in her lap she drove to town in a buggy, but the little patient died as they were driving along South street near the home of Dr. Jno. C. Wills. When the mother saw that her child had passed away she turned about and drove back to her home, still holding the body in her lap.

The child was not seen before or after death by a physician, and the nature of the disease that ended her life is not known, further than that she had suffered intensely with her side and stomach, which indicates that she might have died of appendicitis.

NEWS OF CITY AND COUNTY CONDENSED

From Sunday's paily S...

R. M. Martin of Hawthorn ... the city yesterday on business. He is one of the substantial farmers of his section.

S. M. Mixson has returned from a pleasant visit to the Jamestown Exposition and other points around Washington.

C. S. Merchant is having a nice little six room cottage erected on East Lemon street. It will be modern in every respect.

Miss Bertha Barton of McIntosh was in the city yesterday on business with the county superintendent of public instruction.

Dr. W. A. Russell, superintendent of the Starke High School, who has been here attending the State Normal, left yesterday for his home.

The G. W. Hyde Company announce that only three days remain of their July sale. Read the ad. and take advantage of the bargains.

L. W. Jackson, Jr., who has been sick for the past week, is reported much better. His friends hope to see him on the streets in a few days.

Wanted—Two papers of the 9th of April and 1st of May. We will give 10 cents for the first paper of each of the above mentioned dates and 5 cents for the second.

C. R. Spivey was in the city yesterday from Micanopy. He is here on a visit to R. B. Peeler. Mr. Spivey was working in the Lobbitt mill until they closed down.

H. M. Chitty and brother, A. B. Chitty, have returned from New York, Baltimore and Philadelphia. They also visited the Exposition on their return. They both report a pleasant trip.

A. R. Scruggs, familiarly known to her old friends as Gus Scruggs, now of Tampa, is in the city. Mr. Scruggs was a resident of Gainesville for many years, and his old friends are glad to see him again.

T. J. McRae, Sr., has just returned from points in South Florida. He reports things quiet in the southern towns. He says that he observed the orange groves very closely and does not think there will be over a half crop.

A. L. Daughtrey and family have moved from Rocky Point to their new home on the lot formerly occupied by Lawrence Jackson's residence. Their many Gainesville friends extend them a hearty welcome to the city.

Mrs. L. W. Jackson, who had the misfortune to be thrown from her buggy a few weeks ago, from which she received several bad sprains, is feeling much better now and is able to attend to her duties at the Singer sewing machine office.

Dr. E. H. Armstrong, the well-known and leading Jacksonville eye specialist, who has been making professional visits once a month through this section of the country, will not be able, owing to his increased office business, to make these regular professional calls hereafter. The Doctor will turn over such cases as need future attention to Dr. A. W. Underwood of Jacksonville, who will try to make regular visits. Hereafter, Dr. Armstrong will give his exclusive personal attention to his home office at 11 Laura street, where he is prepared to handle all forms of many complicated eye trouble and nervous headaches; cross-eyes straightened without the knife; the grinding of special lenses, in fact, anything and everything pertaining to the optical line.

COLUMBIA COLLEGE FOR LAKE CITY

The Latest Institution of Learning In The State.

SCHOOL TO BE CO-EDUCATIONAL.

The President of the School Must be a Baptist—College Will be Open to All Young Men and Women Florida.

The Baptist convention, which adjourned in Lake City Thursday night, was the largest and most enthusiastic Baptist convention ever held in the history of the State. Though the discussions were some times very animated, perfect harmony prevailed. After the convention had voted to accept Lake City's most generous offer, Rev. C. A. Owen, pastor of the Lake City Baptist church, representing the mayor and city council, presented to Governor Jennings, president pro tem of the convention, a warranty deed to what was once the University of Florida and the State warrant for $15,000 in cash.

A little after 10 o'clock Thursday morning the vast crowd went to the college grounds, where Senator Cone, acting as master of cermonies, introduced Rev. C. A. Owen, who delivered an address of welcome in behalf of the Baptists of Lake City, and then Dr. Julian, who, in behalf of Lake City and Columbia county, welcomed the convention. Senator Carson of Kissimmee replied to the address of welcome. Then followed the dinner—and such a dinner! No people ever showed more unbounded hospitality.

The convention re-assembled in the Baptist church at 2:30 and resumed its work. Twenty trustees were elected—four for one year, four for two years, four for three years, four for four years and four for five years. Gainesville was given one trustee, Hon. W. M. Rivers.

The following facts are emphasized:

1. This college is the property of the Baptist State Convention, incorporated.

2. Every trustee must be a member of a Florida Baptist church. This guarantees home control. An effort was made to place the same restrictions around the teaching force, but this was voted down by an overwhelming majority.

3. The new school was named Columbia College, the word Baptist being left out.

4. An endowment of $57,000 was raised in a few minutes.

5. The college will open on Tuesday, Oct. 1, 1907.

The presidency has been offered to Dr. G. A. Munnerly of Georgia.

Famine Grows Serious.

Kingston, Jamaica, July 26.—The famine in the St. Elizabeth district is growing serious. The local government is blamed for not taking proper measure to prevent suffering. Governor Olivier, who is investigating the situation, learns that there are 10,000 victims. A scandal has been disclosed in the Newton district of St. Elizabeth. Starving people, naked and without schools and ignorant of all religion, have nevertheless been paying taxes.

Dull Times in Stock Market.

New York, July 26.—Dull times in the stock market have been reflected in the sale of a seat on the Stock Exchange for $71,500, which is $1,500 less than the price brought at the last sale a few weeks ago. Last summer, when the public came into the stock market in large numbers, the price of seats jumped to $95,000, which is the record price.

Nine Killed in Fight

Buenos Ayres, July 26.—Nine men have been killed and many injured in a fight at Bahia Blanca between harbor strikers and the police.

Female Weakness

"Last Fall," writes Mrs. S. G. Bailey, of Tunnelton, W. Va., "I was going down by inches, from female disease, with great pain. After taking Cardui, Oh! My! How I was benefited! I am not well yet, but am so much better that I will keep on taking Wine of Cardui till I am perfectly cured."

Despite the envious attacks of jealous enemies and rivals, Cardui still holds supreme position today [as in the past 70 years] for the relief and cure of female diseases. It stops pain, tones up the organs, regulates the functions, and aids in the replacement of a misplaced organ.

WINE OF CARDUI

"JUST FROM GEORGIA"

F. L. S. in Atlanta Constitution.

Let Her Blaze!

No use to worry
The length o' yer days;
If it's got
To be hot.
Might as well let it blaze!

You can't change the weather
By swear-word or phrase;
Forget it!
An' let it
Just blister an' blaze!

Be thankin' you're livin'
A hooray to raise;
Time's flyin':
Quit sighin',
An' let the world blaze!

Log Cabin Philosophy.

It's too hot fer sinners to take a holiday. De weather maker makes um' think er de hereafter.

'Stidder wantin' a gold harp in heaven you orter be satisfied ef you is sho' dey'll let you hol' one end er de bass drum.

W'en we had col' weather a plenty, 'bout all we done wuz tor sit befo' a blazin' fire en ax de Lawd ter pity de po'. So des sweat it out, en quit grumblin'.

The Bill for Billville.

Ain't many bills from Billville—the county seat o' Bill;
The old ten-dollar fellers air the bills we're wantin' still!
But even a dollar bill would do; we're never hard to please;
The weather's mighty hot now, an' a dollar'd raise a breeze!

These bills that keep 'em talkin' from the mornin' to the night,
Ain't jest the bills we're wantin' fer the valleys o' delight!
Take all yer speechifyin', an' you'll find us askin' still
For the old-time interestin', Uncle Sam ten-dollar bill.

"Don't Worry, Dear!"

"Here's the devil to pay again!" he said.

"Don't worry, dear," said the wife. "I was talking to our preacher only the other day, and he said he was sure the devil would wait on you."

Great Day for the Cows.

"The cows are in your crop, colonel."

"Let 'em eat it!" said the colonel. "Two revenue men have collared my moonshine distillery, and the Legislature is tryin' to run the whole State dry!"

Happiness Hard to Beat.

Shady tree where the furrow ends
And a melon cool and sweet;
And whet yer knife!
And bet yer life
It's happiness hard to beat!

Fine umbrella is a shady tree
Where the lights and shadows fit;
With a singin'-word
In the very top of it!

And the troubles of life seem far away,
An' the toil is sweet to me,
With a morsel meet
For a king to eat,
And a song, and a shady tree!

Nuggets from Georgia.

How can you help worrying when you inherit trouble?

The most undignified thing in the world is to come rolling down soon after you have reached the hilltop.

When you meet Trouble half-way you can't blame it for keeping company with you the rest of the road.

When Gabriel blows his trumpet many will rise up and declare that they never did like loud music nohow.

Briefs from Billville.

The bill to move Deacon Jones' distillery nearer town has been laid on the table, the idea being that the distillery would lay all our citizens on the floor.

The legislature was prayed for at campmeeting last Sunday, but the brethren didn't pray loud enough to wake up the angels.

While we were all praying for dry weather yesterday a rain came down and we narrowly escaped drowning. So we have concluded that we know as little about running the weather as the United States Government.

The Colonel and Fate.

"Talking about Fate stepping in and upsetting all your plans," said the colonel, "a friend of mine in Kentucky has just sent me a barrel of the best whiskey ever made in that glorious old State, and I'm blest if my wife hasn't written me from the seashore that she's coming home to make me sign a petition for the passage of the prohibition bill!"

He Weakens.

This is the prayer of a South Georgia philosopher:

"Lord, jest send any weather that pleases you best. We ain't goin' to try to run it any more. We've done flung up!"

No Time to Tarry.

"I seen de devil once," said Brother Dickey.

"And how did he look?"

"Well, suh, fer tell de truth, atter I quit runnin' I clean disremembered his favor!"

ALABAMA LEGISLATURE.

Early Closing Bill Passed—No General Prohibition Bill.

Montgomery, Ala., July 26.—Governor Comer signed the anti-shipping bill, which prevents shipments of liquors into prohibition territory, and the house has passed the early closing bill.

These two bills are all that is asked by the prohibitionists, and no general prohibition bill will be passed.

A memorial was referred in the house to elect the United States senators by direct vote, and in the senate to congress to repeal the bankruptcy laws. The house made ten hours a day in factories, and the senate passed the bill already passed by the house to tax sleeping car companies $3,000.

The early closing bill will shut up saloons in towns of 10,000 at 7 p. m., in towns ten to fifteen thousand at 8 o'clock and others at 9 o'clock.

Montgomery, Birmingham and Mobile will close at 9 o'clock.

To Raise Price of Cigars

Havana, July 26—Twenty independent cigar manufacturers, though not the most important ones, have decided to raise the price of cigars, charging American money instead of Spanish gold. This step is likely to be followed soon by all.

LEGAL ADVERTISEMENTS.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION TO APPLY FOR LETTERS PATENT.

Notice is hereby given that the undersigned will apply to the Governor of the State of Florida, at Tallahassee, the capital of Florida, on the 28th day of August, A. D. 1907, for Letters Patent, incorporating W. B. Phifer Company, under the following proposed charter.

W. B. PHIFER,
S. F. WAITS,
S. D. PRINCE,
H. L. PHIFER,
J. A. PHIFER,

PROPOSED CHARTER OF W. B. PHIFER COMPANY.

The undersigned do hereby associate themselves together for the purpose and object of becoming incorporated under the laws of the State of Florida, for the transaction of business under the following charter:

Article I—The name of this corporation is W. B. Phifer Company. Its prinicpal office shall be in the City of Gainesville, Alachua county, Florida, and its business shall be conducted in Alachua county, and in other counties and places in the State of Florida, and elsewhere, through offices, branches, agencies or otherwise, as may be necessary.

Article II—The general nature of the business to be conducted, transacted and engaged in by this corporation, shall be to build, own and operate saw mills, dry kilns and their appurtenances, tram roads and logging plants; to buy, manufacture, sell or otherwise deal in lumber of all kinds, cross-ties, wood shingles and laths; to make and manufacture, buy, sell and deal in turpentine, rosin, naval stores, gum, tar, charcoal and other products and by-products from timber, pine trees, wood and stumps; to buy, operate, sell, own, build and operate retorts, machines and machinery, and other devices for the manufacture of turpentine, rosin, tar and other products from pine trees, wood and stumps; to own, run and operate stores, commissaries, etc.; to engage in the mercantile business; to purchase, own and hold land, timber and timber privileges, by deed, lease, timber permits and other form of contract, and to sell, lease, mortgage or otherwise dispose of the same; to acquire, own, hold use, mortgage, lease, sell and convey property of all kinds, real, personal and mixed, including stocks and bonds; to loan money, to borrow money and secure same by mortgage to secure debt, bond or other obligation therefor; to receive payment for the capital stock of the corporation in money or property at a just valuation to be fixed by the Board of Directors; to make contracts of all and every kind incident to and for the furtherance of its purposes and business, including contracts and debts between said corporation and individuals and other corporations; to make such bylaws as may be deemed best, and generally to exercise, enjoy all powers incident to the conduct and purposes of the said corporation, and to have, exercise and enjoy all rights, powers and privileges incident to corporations organized and existing under and by virtue of the laws of the State of Florida.

Article III—The amount of capital stock of this corporation shall be One Hundred Thousand Dollars, divided into one thousand shares of the par value of One Hundred Dollars each. The capital stock shall be subscribed for and ten per cent paid in before said corporation shall transact any business. All or any part of the capital stock of said corporation may be payable in or issued or used for the purchase of property, labor or service at a just valuation thereof, to be fixed by the Board of Directors at a meeting to be called for that purpose.

Article IV—This corporation shall continue, exist and have full power to exercise its corporate rights and franchise for the period of ninety-nine (99) years from the date of its corporate existence.

Article V—The business of said corporation shall be managed by a President, Vice-President, a Secretary, a Treasurer, and a Board of Directors consisting of five (5) members. The office of Secretary and Treasurer may be held by the same person, and the Directors may be increased to not more than seven (7) if the by-laws so provide.

The annual meeting for the election of officers by the stockholders of the corporation shall be held on the first Tuesday in January of each and every year. The stockholders shall meet on the first Tuesday in January, A. D. 1908, for the first annual meeting of the corporation, in the City of Gainesville, Florida, and until the officers of said corporation are elected at the first regular meeting in January, A. D. 1908, the business of this corporation shall be conducted by the following named officers: W. B. Phifer as President, S. F. Waits as Vice-President, S. D. Prince as Secretary and Treasurer, and W. B. Phifer, J. A. Phifer, H. L. Phifer, S. F. Waits and S. D. Prince, as Directors.

Article VI—The highest amount of indebtedness or liability to which this corporation may at any one time subject itself shall be One Hundred Thousand Dollars.

The names and residence of the subscribing incorporators, together with the number of shares of its capital stock subscribed by each, are as follows:

W. B. Phifer, Gainesville, Florida, 250 shares.

H. L. Phifer, Gainesville, Florida, 125 shares.
